

THE WEDDING

This last installment of a mini-series on Emily Sweeney and Lauralee Summer's engagement naturally ends with their wedding, held on July 22, 2006, at the Arnold Arboretum in the M. Victor and Frances Leventritt Garden in Jamaica Plain.

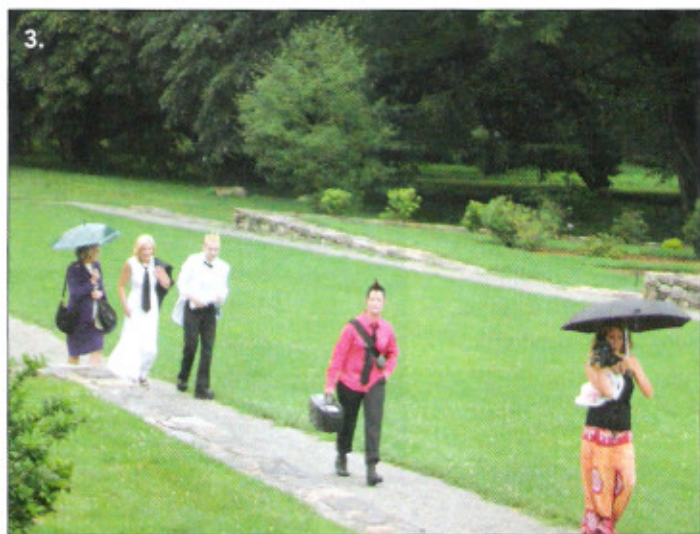

Lauralee designed the wedding invitations, the programs and a wedding web page. Lauralee even designed her white wedding dress herself and had it custom-made at a bridal shop in Jamaica Plain. Emily opted for white tails and her trademark spiked hair.

The reception was held at the Roxbury Center for the Arts at Hibernian Hall in Dudley Square in Roxbury, with food from Berries and a variety of cakes from Konditor Meister.

A friend, Andrew Anselmo, made origami creations (strawberries, swans, frogs and sailboats) as decorations/party favors for each table. Several other friends displayed their artwork at the reception (as requested to by the couple). Live music was performed by Provocateur.

1. Emily and Lauralee exchange vows, which they wrote themselves. Lauralee's father, Judge Robert J. Morgan officiated.
2. Time for cake!
3. The couple was escorted into the Arboretum by a friend carrying a boom box, so they had music playing as they entered the garden.
